

4th Newcastle Jubilee Development Lecture

Ten years after the Stern Review
on the Economics of Climate Change:
Looking Back, Looking Forward

Lord Nicholas Stern

IG Patel Professor of Economics and Government and Chair of the Grantham
Research Institute on Climate Change and the Environment,
London School of Economics and Political Science

Curtis Auditorium, Herschel Building, Newcastle University.
5.30 pm, Thursday 2nd February

Sponsored by Newcastle University, the Diocese of Newcastle, and Jubilee Debt Campaign UK

With the support of the City of Newcastle, the Chaplaincies of Newcastle
& Northumbria Universities, and North East CALL TO ACTION

Ten years since the launch of the Stern Review, which examined the economic impacts of climate change, its key messages are more relevant than ever before. Agreements made in 2016 provide hope for stronger action, which is now ever more pressing.

Everyone welcome – no booking required, but come early if you want a seat in the auditorium!

Liquid refreshments (but not food) will be provided for those wishing to stay for the following event, in the same venue, at 7.30 for 7.45pm

‘Christian responses to Climate Change’
– Commentary and Panel Discussion

- Professor Bob White FRS, co-author of ‘Hope in an Age of Despair’
- Maria Elena Arana, National Campaign Coordinator for CAFOD
- Jo Herbert, a young activist from Tearfund

Continued below

‘Christian responses to Climate Change’

– Commentary and Panel Discussion

Curtis Auditorium, Herschel Building, Newcastle University

7.30pm - Video Presentations

7.45 until 9.00pm - Commentary and Panel Discussion

Chair, Rt Revd Mark Tanner, Bishop of Berwick

Panel members:

Professor Bob White FRS, University of Cambridge

Maria Elena Arana, CAFOD

Jo Herbert, Tearfund

- “Responding with hope”, led by Professor Bob White FRS, Director of the Faraday Institute at St Edmunds College, University of Cambridge, and co-author of ‘Hope in an Age of Despair’;
- “Responding with compassion”, led by Maria Elena Arana, national Campaign Coordinator for CAFOD;
- “Responding with lifestyle-choices”, led by Jo Herbert, a young activist from Tearfund.

This event will be sponsored by the Chaplaincies of Newcastle and Northumbria Universities, with the support of the Diocese of Newcastle, CAFOD, Christian Aid, Tearfund, Faraday Institute, Christians in Science, John Ray Initiative, BMS World Mission, Northern Baptist Association, URC Northern Synod, North East CALL TO ACTION and other agencies.

Please note that only tea, coffee, biscuits and soft drinks will be provided for those wishing to attend both this session and the Lecture by Lord Stern. (Donations to defray the cost will be welcome.)

For further information, contact david.golding@ncl.ac.uk